The Humors of a Courl Room were admirably sketched and the audience kept in hearty laughter. Mr. Cowardin's faculty of mimicry is something remarkable, and all of his anecdotes are related in such an exmirth, without the aid of the pith and point. All who heard Mr. Cowardin were highly pleased, and the only complaint was on the score of brevity. We hope that Mr. Cowardin will soon have an opportunity favoring us with another visit.

JUDGE BYNUM'S DISSENTING OPIN-ION IN THE BLALOCK AND COLLINS MURDER CASE.-A prominent and leading lawyer in the eastern portion of the State sends us the following communication in regard to the dissenting opinion of Justice Bynum, of the Supreme Court, in the Blalock and Collins murder case, from Johnston county. From all we can gather Judge Bynum's views are sustained by a large majority of the legal fraternity of the State:

[For the Daily News. I have read with sincere pleasure the learned and able opinion of Judge Bynum in the case of State vs. Blalock and Collins, the beauty of which is only surpassed by the noble senti-ments which it enunciates. It is really refreshing in these degenerate times to meet with such an pinion emanating from one of the nighest judicial officers of the State. It recalls one's recollection of those days of "blessed memory," when the bench of North Carolina was adorned and made illustrious by such men as a Henderson, a Taylor, a Ruffin, a Nesh, a Battle, a Manly, a Caldwell, a Gaston, a Settle and their able compeers; men not less distinguished for the purity of their private and official conduct, than for their great learning, who made for North Carolina a name among her sister States, and gave her the reputation of possessing a Judiciary unsurpassed for integrity and profound legal lore.

Of such men North Carolina had a right to be and was justly proud, and like the noble Roman matron, she could point to them as "her jewels." Indeed, her Judiciary was not only pure but above suspicion, so that not even a whisper, much less a public charge of official corruption, was ever uttered against it, nor would such a

No one would presume to have approached one of the Judges of the ancient regime with reference to any case he had in Court which might come before him for decision. The writer recollects to have heard an anecdote of the late General Alfred Dockery, alike honorable to him and the Judge to whom it referred. It was the invariable habit of the General to invite all the Judges, who attended Richmond Court, to his hospitable mansion. But on one occasion he made an exception in the person of that pure and able Judge, the late David F. Caldwell, and being so entirely out of the usual course of General Dockery, it naturally excited surprise, so much so that he was asked why he had made this exception, to which the General, who dyly annrecisted the true position of at once: "I did not invite Judge Caldwell to my house, as I desired to do, because I had a case in court which he might have to try, and I did not choose to place the Judge nor myself in a false or embarrassing position.

Another instance occurs to the writer. While the late Judge Settle was on the Superior Court bench of the State, he had been invited by a citizen, whose house he had to pass in going to a certain court, to stop with him, which the Judge promised to do, but afterwards, upon learning that this person had a suit in the court to which he was going, he immediately resolved to decline the accepted invitation, and went directly on to his court.

These are a few of many similar incidents showing how our noble Judges of the olden time, of the better days of the State, appreciated their true position, and how cautious they were never to do any thing which might possibly cast reproach upon their high office, or which might raise the slightest suspicion as to the purity of the judicial ermine. Oh, Messrs. Editors! could we recall those precious days in the judicial history of the State, North Carolina would be blessed indeed. What Judge then thought of alluding himself, or would for a moment have tolerated in another the slightest allusion to politics, or to the political opinions of a party or a

And how changed in another respect is the present period in our history? It sometimes happens that a suitor goes to the Judge's room, while on the circuit, and talks to him freely about his case which that very Judge has to try, and, as is naturally the case, too often succeeds in influencing that officer's mind in his favor. And if a member of the Bar so far forgets himself, and the honor of his profession, as to confer with the Judge in private about his client's case, the Judge sometimes lends a willing ear, and so when the case is called before him, is wholly disqualified to do justice to the other side, or to hold the scales of justice with a steady and impartial hand. In this opinion of Judge Bynum's occurs this admirable passage, which should be written in bold, tegible letters over the judicial bench in every place where court is held. Says the Judge: "The law does not confer arbitrary power on the Judge, nor impose tame submission on counsel. Each in his sphere is independent, and neither can encroach upon the freedom and discretion of the other." This is the true view of the relative rights and duties of the "Bench and the Bar." But alas! how often do pressive manner that the tone and gesture are sufficient alone to excite from this wholesome doctrine. It is too often the case that a Judge exhibits impatience, and sometimes petulance, when a lawyer, in pressing what he deems the legal points of his case, undertakes to enforce them with authortiies that he deems pertinent, that he is treated with a degree of impatience amounting to rudeness. Now, humility and parudeness. Not only Christian, but tience are not only Christian, Last evening the election of the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department of this city took place, and rewhich, in the language of the great Dr. Johnson, "teaches us how little we know," will always lend a patient ril, 23. So it will be seen that Mr. and respectful ear. It is only the Clawson is re-elected for the ensuing year. The Fire Department has 223 above what is written" and too

Hale, was distinguished for his patience and respect for the opinions and arguments of others.

In conclusion, Messrs. Editors, let me say that Judge Bynum is officially a very young Judge, but that if this opinion to which I have reference is a fair presage of the future, he is destined to be one of the ablest and, certainly, the most acceptable Judge on the Supreme Court Bench.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

The Immigration Convention—A Grand, a Truly Glorious Success. The celebration of St. Patrick's Day at Metropolitan Hall, under the auspices of Father McNamara, closed at a late hour last night, and we are proud to say it was a success in the highest sense of the word. The morning rose with promise of a lovey day. And the sun came out in splendor. The people of Raleigh seemed thoroughly seized with the spirit of St. Patrick himself. Everybody wore green, at least so it appeared to us. Men of every shade of politics, men of every religious learning, men of all ranks wore the green, and were boasting their Irish blood, and if they could not trace it very distinctly, they at least seemed desirous that it should be understood that their father or grandfather, or great-grandfather, or somebody belonging to them had come from Ireland some time.

We can do little more now than hastily run over the events of the day. At an early hour a Committee of gentlemen, representing the Cath-olic congregation, took their stand at the Yarborough House. It was plain they were bent on business. Soon they were joined by the Rev. Father McNamara. Streams of citizens went towards them. All were warmly welcomed. Father McNamara with Messrs. Barbee, Plumadore, Byrne and others gave our people the most Irish, the most hospitable, the most gentlemanly reception that could be thought of. They had a suite of rooms to themselves, and there the citizens high and low were met and treated in the most cordial. the most generous manner. Good things never gave out. The whole day was consumed in one uninterrupted festivity. Nobody was neg-lected. There was enough for everybody, and everybody was welcome. At night-fall the reception at the Yarborough House closed. The citizens seemed to feel there was something still more desirable awaiting them, and home they went, to turn out again for the "feast of reason and flow of soul" at the Metropolitan Band—who, by the way, are a noble lot of fellows—took their position in front of the Hall, and made the city echo with the music of Old Ireland. They played for nearly an hour. Their beautiful green uniform made a fine appearance. They are not Irishmen, but they looked Irish, and felt Irish, and played Irish, and were applauded Irish by a crowd of people hailing from all parts of the globe. There is not a large Irish population in Raleigh, but we believe no city in the world felt more thoroughly Irish than did Raleigh this St. Patrick's Day. Father Mc-Namara's Irish heart seemed to communicate its feelings to the crowds was Father McNamara last night in the Capital of North Carolina. At a signal, the band entered the grand hall. There they continued the music, and occasionally a song was sung while the people assembled. By the way, a young Englishman named Baker sang a beautiful song-"Sweet Isle of the Sea"—accompanying himself on the concertina, and he was loudly applauded. The orators came in.

They made brilliant speeches. They set forth the character of the genu-ine Irishman. They described good old North Carolina. They showed her advantages for the immigrant. They told of the welcome all good men will receive in the Old North State. But we cannot give their speeches now. We will furnish them hereafter. They will repay perusal. The speeches of Hon. T. C. Fuller, T. M. Argo, Esq., John S. Manix, Esq., Hon. W. A. Smith and others were received with unbounded applause. Towards the close Mr. M. B. Barbee, of our city, was loudly called, and he made telling and a very practical off-hand

But we must close for to-day by saying that Mr. Manix, of Newbern, urged the appointment of committees in different sections of the State to correspond with the Central St. James' Committee at Raleigh for the purpose of furnishing information for immigrants. Mr. Barbee sug-gested the appointment of a Com-mittee on Publication, to prepare a pamphlet containing the history of this movement, the speeches delivered, &c. These ideas were adopted. Songs and mirth interspersed the whole proceedings. The large audience were in perfect transports of enjoymeut, and at a late hour Father McNamara declared the meeting adjourned. May we enjoy many such days as this North Carolina St. Patrick's Day.

UP THE WESTERN ROAD.

We commenced a series of letters from the several towns we visited while on a trip up the Western North Carolina Railroad, but on our arrival home, Saturday morning last, after visiting another section of the State, we were surprised to find that our letter No. 3, mailed from Morgantown, had, by some means, miscarried. We regret it, especially as it would be impossible at this remote date, and so differently situated, to write up our impressions of the many natural attractions of this mountain town.

Situated as it is, nestled, we might say, in the lap of surrounding mounmembers, and the total number of learned to be instructed, who is impatient. The meekest, as well as one of the ablest and greatest of the large of surrounding mountains, "shut out from the rude world," not by "Alpine hills," but one of the ablest and greatest of the large of surrounding mountains, "shut out from the rude world," not by "Alpine hills," but one of the ablest and greatest of the large of surrounding mountains, "shut out from the rude world," not by "Alpine hills," but one of the ablest and greatest of the large of surrounding mountains, and the rude world, and the the Blue Ridge and Yellow Mountains, from the peaks of which we have in plain and unobstructed view the famous "Table Rock," " Hawk's Bill," and other notable mountain scenes, Morganton is by nature made a most attractive and pleasant summer resort for down-easters.

The magnificent mountain scenery, beautiful location, good society, accessibility, &c., would of itself be sufficient to attract the yellow-skin, paleface, "chill-complected" down easter, but greater far than this, than all, is the great excellence of the Mountain Hotel, where the Summer visitors generally flock. We have roamed North Carolina from Cherokee to Currituck, we have enjoyed good meals at many points, and suffered in the flesh at others, but never have we seen beef steak as well prepared or a dinner better cooked than at the Mountain Hotel in Morganton. Curiosity led us to interview the landlord, Dr. Happoldt, on the manner in which his food was prepared. He informed us that his good lady was an old school South Carolina connoisseur, very fond of good eating herself, and being of amiable disposition preferred seeing others enjoy it with her. She therefore, superintended the preperation of every article of food that came on the table—and thus it was that everything was au fait, and why this house enjoys such an enviable reputation. As we propose visiting Morganton again in a few days, we will defer further notice of this ancient burg till we either find our lost notes or get new ones.

ST. PATRICK'S CELEBRATION AT COTTAGE HOTEL.—Last evening a portion of our Irish fellow-citizens, together with a large number of invited guests, celebrated this day of good feeling and joy at the Cottage Hotel in a style worthy of the occasion. The song and dance, seasoned with mirth and kindly feeling, were invoked to give zest to the festivities. The ball-room was beautifully festoned with wreathes and crosses of evergreens and flags, and the walls were liberally garnished with appropriate mottoes. But this was not all-handsomely attired and lovely ladies moved gracefully in the dance, and gave to the scene a charm which the attractions of nature alone can inspire. Artificial adornSTONEWALL has given in this, and adment may captivate the eve fo awhile, but a surfeit is soon obtained; but who ever tires of looking upon the face of a beautiful woman, and of watching the grace of her movements in the stately quadrille or the abandon of the waltz. In a scene like this one realizes the poetry of motion, especially when and the low, sweet laugh which floats through the room until its cadence is lost in the distance. At 12 o'clock an elegant supper was served, and all that could tempt the most delicate appetite was spread out in profusion; and many were the tender wishes uttered over wine hardly less rosy than the lips of beauty which it was destined to kiss. The night of St. Patrick's Day, at the Cottage Hotel, will not soon be forgotten by those who participated in its joys. Mr. Patrick Dolan, the proprietor of the hotel, was the recipient of many high compliments and the low, sweet laugh which cipient of many high compliments for the good taste of all the arrangements and the pleasant manner in which they were carried out.

-The Legislature of Maryland has defeated a local option prohibitory law, proposed by the temperance people of that State.

-The Charlotte "Observer" has further information, confirming the reports of the premonitory symptoms of an eruption at Bald Mountain. The Ashevil e "Expositor" says that great consternation exists in the vicinity of the mountain. In consequence of the threatened volcano, a large prayer meeting has been organized in the community about the

If it has that effect, a small sized volcano would be of benefit in many other regions we wot of.

As it has been asserted that the whites and blacks of the South are not moving West in any great numbers, we take from two of our exchanges, which reached us on the same day, the following facts. The Atlanta Constitution says:

"The emigration of negroes westward continues to attract public attention. The tide, it seems, starts with diminished volume in Georgia, gathering immense additions in Alabama, to pour its black flood into Mississippi, Louisiana or Arkansas. The spirit of unrest seems to permeate the whole race. For while the Georgia and Alabama blacks are moving into Mississippi and Louisiana, a new tide starts westward from those States to lose itself on the immense plains of Texas."

THE last funeral rite has been performed; the last votive offering of devoted friendship has been made and the grave has closed overall that was mortal of CHARLES SUMNER. Eulogies, abounding in praise of his character as a man and his conduct as an office-holder have been pronounced; and, now, these are remitted to the future for calm and dispassionate judgment.

A fact, noticed and remarked upon by the Baltimore Gazette, has attracted our observation, to-wit: the remarkable forbearance from harsh criticism of those who have so grievously suffered from the fanaticism with which he sought to secure the supremacy of the idea to whose establishment he had dedicated his time, energy and talent. No unkind word has been ence. All have seemed to feel that it were an unmanly and ungracious thing to indulge in the utterance of petty prejudices or dislikes towards one upon whom Death has set his seal.

As the Gazette remarks: In such a case there are but two courses for generous minds: "to speak nothing but good of the dead-silence."

In discussing the question of the successor of Senator SUMNER, the Springfield Republican says:

The choice can hardly go outside of these five persons: Mr. Dawes, Governor Bullock, Judge Hoar, Charles Francis Adams and Henry L. Pierce. In the choice of neither of these can General Grant or General Butler find much comfort, and it would seem to be impossible that they should be able to carry a candidate of their own. It may not even be left to them to take their choice of these. But in either of these men Butler will find quite as implacable, and possibly quite as effective an opponent to his ambition to control Massachusetts and her politics as in

Mr. Sumner himself. Things may have that appearance now, but if BENJAMIN F. BUTLER has any scheme to promote or grudge to gratify by the selection of some person not named, he will considerably enliven things about election time. As the election can only occur on the second Tuesday after official notice of the vacancy, it will be held on the 24th, we suppose. In the meantime, Massachusetts politics may exhibit some amusing phases. BUTLER has the will and the pluck to make things hot, if the odds are not too decidedly against him. And then, too, having no moral character, he may resort to means which his enemies would not employ.

THIS is emphatically a day of investigations. So great have been the corruption and fraud in the conduct of our governmental affairs that, at last, public sentiment has been shocked, a halt has been ordered and the demand made of Congress that means be at once, adopted for purification in our affairs. Fraud has rioted in the lincense purchased of purchasable Congressmen. The public have been remorselessly plundered for the benefit of sharpers and swindlers. Thousands of acres of the public lands have been granted to corporations already bloated with ill-gotten gains. Every day the papers chronicle the defalcation of some agent of the government, whose appointment was bestowed as a reward for political services rendered, and not because of fitness for the discharge of the duties incident to the position.

These evils have existed so long, the public have submitted so quietly to the plundering, that the men, who have done the wrong, were embol- mend it to public support. Seeing dened by their success and attempt- this, its leaders and its press assidued still other and more glaring ously seek opportunities to de-injuries. Then, as we have said, publie sentiment was aroused. Exposure followed and all the sickening details of wrong and infamy became known. Then came the demand for inquiry. The country wanted the strictest investigation and would be satisfied with nothing less than that. Congress, responding to the wishes of the people, has ordered investigations and even now the following are being made : Investigation of the official conduct of Judges Busteed and Durell; into the affairs of the District of Columbia and into the working of the system in operation in the New York Custom House, and a Court of Inquiry is sitting for the investigation of the official doings of Gen. O. O. HOWARD, as Chief of the Freedman's Bureau.

The number of these investigations is startling. The country has never before seen anything like this. Heretofore cases of malfeasance have occurred and have been promptly punished; but here are a number of matters of prime importance in which corruption has been charged.

We hope that these investigations will be vigorously pressed. The country has too long patiently borne the evils, or the consequences of the evils, thus sought to be remedied. Let there be full and complete explosure, and then let the punishment provided by law be swiftly visited upon the guilty. The country demands this; nothing less than this will satisfy that demand.

WE are indebted to the Richmond Dispatch for the facts stated below: There exists in London an association of bondholders known as the British Board of Trade, this Board being an auxilliary society to the General Court of Members of the Corporation of Foreign Bondholders. The object of these organizations are "the vindication and protection of the rights and interests of holders of foreign bonds and the maintenance of the public credit of foreign goverrments by the propagation of sound doctrines with respect to the punctual fulfillment of their financial engagements, especially toward foreign

The list of governments included in the report furnished by the Dispatch contains States from France to Bavaria. Much interest was manifested by gentlemen of the last Legislature concerning the intimate knowledge possessed by many foreigners upon the subject of our State indebtedness. We suspect that much of it was obtained through this source.

The report, the Dispatch says, is arrogant and threatening in its tone. Already steps have been taken by these associations to enforce the colection of their debts in eight of the between these associations and her Northern creditors has been formed to seek payment from Louisiana by Congressional interference.

vetoing the bill amending the charter of the city of Petersburg, has provoked the widest comment. The press of Richmond, including the papers that favored the bill, sustain the Governor. The press of Petersburg is, of course, a unit in opposition. The Noafolk journals, while regretting the decision, still adhere to their confidence in the Governor. Petersburg, as a matter of course, is greatly dissatisfied. It was a sudden crumbling of high hopes for relief from the evils resulting from Radical misrule. They have been sorely oppressed and were jubilant when this avenue of escape from their difficulties was opened for them. Great must have been their chagrin when they found that closed by the interposition of authority vested in the Governor. Many things have been said and done, under the influence of excitement, which will be hereafter regretted. Gov. KEMPER, we think, committed an error; but we believe he honestly did what in his conscience he thought right. Thus believing we hope that any bad feelings that may have been born of the disappointment may be repressed, and that some method may yet be devised by which Petersburg may be reclaimed from the clutches of those who have found profit in plundering and pleasure in annoying her good citi-

AFTER the authoritative declaration of Dr. BROWN-SEQUARD that there was no trace of the blow given CHARLES SUMNER by PRESTON Brooks, we do hope that the papers of the North will cease their raving denunciations and bow in acknowledgment of the truth.

Mr. SUMNER's death has been made the pretext by the Radical press for another effort to fire the Northern heart, to fan into flame the mouldering animosities bred by the war; and one would suppose, from the violent denunciations in which they indulge, that the blow had just been inflicted. The Radical party is essentially a party of hate, however. Take from its creed that feature, and it has nothing by which to recomnounce the people of this section, and to inflame the passions of the people of their owr. Peace with its blessed influences for harmony and healing is death to Radicalism, which can only fatten and thrive when feeding upon the food furnished by malignant hates. Therefore is it, that they have seized upon the death of Mr. SUMNER, and by the aid of what science demonstrates a lie, seek to arouse the worse feelings of the Northern heart. They know the hold which Mr. SUMNER had upon the hearts of his people, and taking advantage of this, seek a party triumph at the expense of the harmony and best interests of both sections. No consideration of truth or justice restrains them. No regard for the prostrate condition of the pecple they seek to harm, causse them to stay their hands. They seek only party good, and care not how mean, despicable or dangerous the means are by which it is to be secured. The good of the country is nothing to them. Let the country suffer, so that Radicalism thrive, with its incidents of fraud and corruption.

The New York Herald is certain that the Simmons outrage killed the Republican party, but the Commer oial Advertiser holds that the old weasel is not dead, only caught napping. The New York Times can't see throught it at all. The New York Post lays the blame on Butler, and thinks that the Republican party is rapidly going to the dogs on account of the unscrupulous character of its office-holders. The Boston Globe wants a new and genuine reform party, though it remarks, rather hopelessly, that the Republican party might yet be saved if there was honesty and vigor enough in it to reform its members. The New York Express says that the Redan of the Republican Sebastopol has fallen, and the fate of the fortress is sealed, The Tribune says the only effect of the election upon national politics will be to set the people to thinking. The Boston Post thinks the result a glorious victory over Butlerism and Grantism, and the New York Sun adds that the Republican party must rid itself of Grantism in all its phases before it can hope to be sayed. Hampshire, says the Boston Advertiser, shows the waning power of once popular leaders. The New York World rejoices that the punishment of the Republican party, for its reckless course in the prostitution of public services to partisan ends, has now commenced. All of which is very encouraging, and proves that New Hampshire has set a good example for her sister States to fol-

The more the thought and indihad feeling of General Lee bem is known, the more we see how have and considerate, wise in his rare common sense, unselfish and noble he was. From the recent speech before the Southern Historical Society at Atlanta, by the Hon. B. H. Hill, we cannot refrain from giving two extracts—the former of which shows his opinion of military Presidents, and the latter gives us a glimpse of the vein of quiet irony that only on rare occasions came to the surface:

"Ah, General," I said, "but you will have to change that rule, and form and express political opinions; for, if we establish our independence, the people will make you Mr. Davis' accessor.'

"Never, sir," he replied, with a firm dignity that belonged only to Lee. "That I will never permit. Whatever talents I may possess (and they are but limited) are military talents. My education and training are military. I think the military and civil talents are distinct, if not different, and full duty in either sphere is about as much as one man can qualify himself to perform. I shall not do the people the injustice to accept high civil office, with whose questions it has not been my busi-

"What mistake is that, General?"

"Why, sir, in the beginning we appointed all our worst Generals to command the armies, and all our best Generals to edit the newspapers. As you know, I have planned some campaigns, and quite a number of battles. I have given the work all the care and thought I could, and sometimes when my plans were completed, as far as I could see, they seemed to be perfect. But when I pleted, as far as I could see, they seemed to be perfect. But when I have fought them through I have discovered defects, and occasionally wondered I did not see some of the defects in advance. When it was all over I found, by reading the newspapers, that these best editor Generals saw all the defects from the start. Unfortunately, they did not comminicate their knowledge to me until it was too late!" Then, after a pause, he added with a beautiful, grave expression I can never forget: "I have no ambition but to serve the Confederacy and do all I can to win our independence. I am willing to serve in any capacity to which the authorities may assign me. I have done the best I could in the field, and have not yet succeeded as I could wish. I am willing to yield my place to these best Generals, and I will do my best for the cause editing a newspaper!"

Gentlemen: To the mary of you with whom I am personally acquainted, I would say, that of good results from GUANAHANI GUANO, I have not the shadow of a doubt. Containing, as it does, in such large amounts, the essentials for plant food, success from its application would seem certain. It being of animal origin, you will see at once that its ingredients must be all subble in the soil. Its nitrogen, from nitric acid, is the most available form known to chemistry; the other part, from undecomposed animal matter, is preferable to the voiatle salts in Peruvian Guano. I ask of each of you the kindness of a thorough examination of the accompanying analyses by two of the great chemists of the country. With respect, yours truly,

WM. R. GRIFFITH, General Agent.

LETTER FROM PROF. WM. C. KERR, STATE GEOLOGIST OF NORTH CAROLINA Raleigh, N. C., January 7th, 1874. Wm. R. Griffith, Esq., General Agent Guanahani Guano Company, Petersburg, Virginia:

Dear Sir: Dr. F. A. Genth, whose Analysis of the Guanahani Guano you have shown me is Chemical Minerologist to the Geological Survey, and has no superior as a chemist. I have no hesitation in endorsing any analysis from his laboratory. And I think the analysis justifies his statement that the substance examined by him is a VALUABLE MANURE.

From his report, and that of Prof. Wilson, it is evidently a TRUE GUANO, both in origin and composition, and its action on crops may be expected to be the same in kind and in degree proportioned to its relative per centage of the valuable ingredients—Phosphoric Acid, Ammonia and Potash, that of the first being unusually high.

Yours truly,

W. C. KERR State Geologist.

LETTER OF PROF. P. B. WILSON, LATE ASSISTANT OF BARON J. VON LIEBIG.

CHEMICAL LABORATORY OF PROF. P. B. WILSON, No. 30 Second Street. Baitimore, December 1st, 1873.

MAJ. N. M. TANNOR, President Guanahani Guano Company, Petersburg, Va.:

Dear Sir: I ha 'e drawn samples of the Guano, as it has arrived in cargo lots, and find it exceedingly uniform in the amount of Phosphoric Acid it contains, namely, from 15 to 19 per cent. This is combined with Lime, and is of animal origin, and readily assimilable by plants. It contains potential ammonia and nitric acid, having a combined Nitrozen value equal to from 2 to 3 per cent. of ammonia, with the alkalies Potash and Soda, and valuable proportions of Sulphate of Lime. The whole forming a very desirable combination for all crops, and when applied to land, the crop receiving proper tillage, must, in my opinion, give as good results as any guano offered to the farmer.

Being of animal origin, the ofgantic matter has undergone partial decomposition, and the accessarily contains a valuable amount of Humus, which makes its fertilizing power much greater than fertilizers which are compounded largery of Peruvian Guano, which, beyond its ammonia and small phosphatic value, has little or no power in absorbing from the atmosphere and retaining in the soil the movable elements absorbed by moisture and brought down by the rains, as the guano you are now placing upon the market. Baltimore, December 1st, 1873. ture and brought down by the rains, as the guano you are now placing upon the market. All of the components of this Guano are very soluble in the soil, and possess such physical properties as to render it at all times and ut der all circumstances as im mediately available plant food.

The late samples you sent me f r analysis, from the deposit which you inform meyou intend to ship from, show a decrease in the phosphatic value, but a large increase in its nitrogen compounds. I think, however, from orevious observations of cargoes, that you may reasonably expect, that cargoes taken from where these samples were drawn, will materially improveed in the saline compounds, (phosphates alkalis and magnesia.

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

WEST PHILADELPHIA, 19th, 1878.

Maj. N M. Taannor, Petersburg, Va.,

DEAR Siz: In compliance with your request, I have analyzed sample of "Guanahani Guano," and have made additional exam.nation of an average sample from a lot of 300 tons, the result of which, I beg to embrace in the following. The Guano is a brownish powder, with lumps of combinations of lime with Carbonic, Phosphoric and Nitric acids, It contains a considerable quantity of water (about 20 per cent.), and when dried is a paler brown powder. The Guano is evidently of animal origin, and the minute bones, which were discovered in the same, indicate that it is the result of the decay of bats, mice, &c. The quantity of organic matter, which is still present, is about 12 per cent., and this yields about 2½ per cent. of ammonia. A portion of the nitrogen is present, as nitric acid, of which about 3 per cent. wa found. All the nitrogen present would be equivalent to about 3½ per cent. of ammonia. The phosphoric acid in the Guano, about 12½ per cent., equal to 27 3 per cent. of bone pho phate. A considerable quantity of the phosphoric acid, however, is present, as so-called neutral phosphate of lime, which, being slightly solt ble in water, renders the Guana as quick in its action, as a corresponding quantity of superphosphate would do. The small per centage of potash, which was found in the analysis, ands to its value.

From all the experiments which I have made of the Guanahani Guano, no doubt can exist that it is a valuable manure.

Yours truly,

Liniversity of Pennsylvania.

Mr. E. A. Dunlap,
Dear Sir: I used your Guano on my wheat last fall, and I am highly pleased with it.
Think it is as good as the high priced Guanos. I have a good paying crop of wheat, and the best stand of grass I ever had, and this is the opinion of those who have seen both, notwithstanding the unfavorable winter and early spring. I shall use it again this fall.

Dear Sir: The Guano purchased from , ou, was used upon coin by the side of one of the best ammoniated soluble phosphates in the market. The quality of the land was the same as was the quantity of guano and phosphate used. The corn where the Guano was used appeared to start sooner, and in the fail was fully ten inches higher and ripened earlier than where the Phosphate was used.

Very respectfully, &c.,

We, the undersigned, have sold your Guano for two seasons. Those that have purchased are buying again, and are pleased with the results.

E. T. Wroth, Esq., Baltimore, Md.,

Dear Sir: I have your favor of 4th inst., making inquiries as to the results from application of the Guano which you sent me last fail. I applied it at the rate of 170 pounds per acre—the same quantity as of the other fertilizers I was then using. The wheat throughout the field bore much the same general appearance, with perhaps something in favor of your Guano. The grain of my crop on that field was generally of fine quality, and I cannot say that I observed any perceptible difference in its appearance.

The result in quantity, (the most important point,) I regret not to be able to give you. Threshing my crop by steam power, my attention was occupied at many points at the same time, and on one of these occasions this particular parcel of wheat was threshed before I was aware of it, and without any note of its comparative yield. I therefore cannot pronounce positively in its favor, over others; but, from its general appearance, judge it quite equal to other standard fertilizers of established reputation.

Very respectfully yours, Cheston, Near Queenstown, Md., August 18th, 1873.

In reply to yours of the 12th, will say, the farmers can say but little, as yet, in regard to Guanahani Guano. But Maj. A. G. Davis, who used one bag, by the side of several other fertilizers, says, so far, the Guanahani looks better than any of the others. All parties say, so far, they can use no difference in their grain wherever it is up sufficient to judge. By the Spring, I can give you a more satisfactory report. Hoping to have the pleasure of a visit from you, soon,

W. R. GRIFFITH, Esq.,

Dear Sir: Yours of the 12th inst., was received on yesterday, and, in compliance with your request, I hasten to reply. I purchased half ton of Guanahani Guano, from Messrs. Rowlett & Tannor, 1st of October, 1873, to use upon my wheat crop, as an experiment. I applied it 200 lbs. per acre. The wheat was seeded from the 10th to the 17th of October. I was very careful in the application, leaving two strips of land through the field; one of an acre, the other two acres. The one acre strip was manured with * *Phosphate. The two acre strip was in tobacco, heavily manured with stable manure and  * * * Tobacco Fertilizer. I also added a strip of very poor land (stubble) on one end, three-fifths of an acre. Upon this I applied 100 lbs. of Guanahani, and also molstened the wheat and rolled it in the Guano. (I mean the wheat sown upon this three fifths strip.) The season has been favorable, and the young wheat is looking very well; and that upon the narrow strip of poor land, equally as good as upon the heavily manured tobacco land. I am satisfied hat the Guano is acting upon this strip of wheat, as the land was very poor. I do not think that it would be well for me to make a positive assertion just yet, bu will carefully note the result and let you hear from me again.

Yours respectfully.

Kingston, Dinwiddie Co., Va., November 26th, 1873. Messrs. Rowlett & Tannor,
Dear Sirs: In reply to your inquiries in regard to the Guanahani Guane, which I purchased last summer, I can only say that I applied it on my wheat crop, sowing it broadcast and plowed it in with the wheat. So far, I am vary much pleased with the Guano. Where I used it, the wheat looks better than any I have seen, and my neighbors who have seen it, consider it so. I applied it the first of October, and it shows very plainly over the wheat where there was nothing used.

Very respectfully.

Very respectfully, [Note.—Mr. Mitchell has since ordered 10 tons for his Spring crops]

Millstone Landing, Md., December 1st, 1873. Mr. E. A. DUNLAP,

Dear Sir: I am just in receipt of your letter, but regret that I did not receive it sooner.

I used your Guano, side by side with * * * * * 's Ammoniated Super-Phosphate, and could perceive no difference, only in growth of the straw. The straw from * * * * * 's rather the largest. The grass from it was equally as good, and I do not hesitate in recommending it to farmers as a reliable fet tilizer.

Very respectfully,

Messrs. McILWAINE & Co., Petersburg, Va.,
Gentlemen: I used the Guanahani Guano, purchased of you, on wheat at the rate of

Prince George County, Va., December 18th, 1873. Messrs, B'shop & B'ANCH, Sirs: You ask me my opinion of the Guanahani Guano I pucchased of you last fall.
I used the guano on my wheat, but owing to the unfavorable fall for the growth of wheat, it would be impossible for any manure to show its strength fully. However, I think the guan oa good ertilizer, from the fact, that the wheat looks as well as it does where a well known fertilizer was used that cost nearly double the money.

Respectfully,

A. G. JORDAN. Messrs. Bishop & B ANCH.

Petersburg, Va., December 16th, 1873.

WM. R. Griffith, General Agent of the Guanahani Guano Company,

Dear Sir. In reply to your enquiry about the action of the Guanahani Guano on my wheat crop, I would say, up to the present time it is looking very well.

You truly,

SAMUEL H. JONES,

Frince George County, Va. Bread Run Station, Fauquier County, Va., December 4th, 1873.

Mr. E. A. Dunlap,

Mr. E. A. Dunlap,

Dear Sir: I let one row without your fertilizer, and used it on the next row. I used at the rate of 200 pounds to the acre. I had the corn carefully gathered separate, and found the result as follows: From the Guano row I shelled one bushel and nearly a half garlon; from the row without guano I got a half bushel and not quite a quart; making faily double where I used guano. The growth of stalk was not proportionately heavy—the strength seemed to go to the grain. I think it an excellent Spring fertilizer. The land I tried it on was quite thin. Yours, &c., A. D. SMITH. Poplar Mount, Greensville County, Va., December 17th, 1873.

Messrs. Rowlett & Tanner.

Gentlemen: Yours of the 15th is received. You ask "How I like the Guanahani Guano, so far?"

Guano, so far?"

In reply I have to say that I used five bags last fall, experimentally. I applied four bags to wheat at the rat? of 200 pounds to the acre. I used the same quantity (200 pounds) on winter oats. The wheat was not sown until about the 20th of October, but has already a healthy, vigorous blade. The present indications lead me to believe that it is decidedly superior to any of the sup r-phosphates.

The winter oats we e sown the last of September. In the application to this crop, I have, in consequence of earlier seeding, a better opportunity of observing the effect of the Guanahani Guano. Here it is most marked and decided. It reminds me of former days, when, for a moderate outlay of money, the farmer purchased the pure Chinchs Island, (unadulterated) Peruvian Guano.

I wish to try some of this Guano next year on cotton and tobacce.

I am, very truly yours,

GEORGE W. FIELD.

The Company recommend an application of from 200 to 250 pounds peacre, but not over the larger amount. As it will be impossible to bring but few thousand t as to this country in tame for the spring trade, orders must be sent at an early day to secure it. Fearful Outrages-"Confusion Worse Confused. CITY OF MEXICO, March 10 .- Via Havana.-A fearful outrage was perpetrated by a mob in Ahualul county, in the State of Jalisco, last Sunday. In the morning the Priest delivered an incendiary sermon in the course of which he advocated the extermination of Protestants. This so excited his hearers that the mob gathered in the evening, and proceeding to the residence of Rev. Jno. Stevens, a Congregational minister, sent out by the Boston Board of Foreign Missions, with cries, "long live the Priests." They broke into the house, and seizing the clergyman smashed his head to a jelly, and chopped his body into pieces. They afterwards sacked the house and carried off everything of value. After much delay the riot was suppressed by the local authorities. The government has sent a detachment of troops to the place. A rigid investigation has been set on foot, and orders have been issued for the arrest of all the Priests in Ahualul county and the neighboring town of Teshitan. The mob in Saynayo, acting under similar religious frenzy, attacked the the public archives, and pillaged the the houses of the authorities. The government of Jalisco has arrested nine of the bandits who robbed the stage near Guadalajara and killed Westfall and Bartholy. A portion of the property taken from the passengers was found in the possession ate, having received the approval of of the prisoners. The Governor of the District of Mexico has issued an order prohibiting cock-fighting as a away, he (Mr. Frelinghuysen) would practice nuworthy of civilized people.
